On behalf of WorkSafeNB’s board of directors, management and staff, I’m pleased to present to you our 2016-2021 Strategic Plan and Risk Assessment.

2015 was a solid year for WorkSafeNB. Our discipline has led to low injury frequency, low assessment rates, full funding, and strong return to work outcomes. As an organization that firmly believes in continuous improvement, our strong results present an opportunity to focus on our clients’ service experience and manage the risk around declining client satisfaction.

These are ambitious goals. WorkSafeNB clients often find themselves in our care when they’re at their most vulnerable, needing our service rather than wanting it. Therefore, it is even more critical that we provide the best possible service for each injured worker, every time. To reach these goals, it was important that we revisited our organizational values.

Through strategic changes in this plan, we are sending a clear message to our stakeholders that we intend to improve service delivery. While our vision retains a strong focus on injury prevention, when injuries do occur, we are reinforcing our commitment to those people affected by adopting a new support goal and a new service goal. These goals will shape our interactions with clients, putting them at the centre of our service model so that each person’s experience with WorkSafeNB is exceptional.

You will notice that we also created a new core value – “the client is the priority” and identified those values that will drive our interactions with clients. These values are essential to growing a culture of service excellence. Creating this culture and service model requires all our effort – the Board of Directors, the Executive Leadership Team, and every employee working at every job within WorkSafeNB. Together, we each must do our part to solidify the foundation of exceptional service and continue to improve it over time.

At WorkSafeNB, we want to find ways to innovate to benefit all our stakeholders. The road to success is always under construction. Over the next five years, we will continue to build an organization that you trust and of which New Brunswickers can be proud.
