

Claim Payments by Year and Employer Type

WorkSafeNB data as of December 31, 2016

Assessed employers are grouped according to industry and associated risk, and are assessed a premium based on their rate group and yearly payrolls.

Self-insured employers do not pay assessment rates but rather pay WorkSafeNB (either through reimbursement or a deposit account) for the actual cost of compensation paid in respect of their workers. Examples include provincial and federal governments.